

Their career. Their future. Their way.

Personalised support for students on their path to work

We help students living with disability, illness, injury or mental health conditions find and settle into a job.

Whatever your students' career goals, our disability employment specialists can help them. Our support is designed around their strengths, goals and needs.

We'll work together to create a tailored plan that works for them. This plan is flexible and changes as their goals and needs do.

They'll have choice and control throughout their journey, and we stay with them as long as needed.

We have a strengths-based approach to building capacity and work-readiness. We match them to the right supports, training and employment opportunities. This is what sets us apart from our competitors.

Tailored support at every step

Whether it's finding an enjoyable job or building a lasting career, we help school leavers to:

- understand and plan their job or career goals
- build confidence and skills
- learn about and meet local employers
- connect to supports like allied health and community services
- craft a resume and cover letters that stand out
- find and apply for suitable jobs or training
- prepare for job interviews
- access practical support like assistance with transport or work uniforms
- use Campus to access online tools and learning, track progress and stay updated
- find out what funding they're eligible for, including workplace modifications and assistive technology.

Is my student eligible?

We help students who:

- need help looking to move from school into work, and
- have a verified disability, illness or health condition (including mental health conditions).

Students must be either:

- studying full-time in their final year of secondary school
- participating in or intending to participate in an Australian school-based apprenticeship that's part of their secondary school curriculum
- exiting an eligible State or Territory Government post-school employment or work transition program, or
- participating in or have recently completed NDIS-funded employment assistance.
